THE CABINET SUSTAIN THE PRESIDENT AGAINST GRANT.

The President is sustained on his representation of what transpired between himself and Gen. GRANT:

By Mr. Wells of the Navy Department: My recollection of the conversation at the Cabinet meeting on the 14th of January corresponds with your statement of it in the letter of the 31st ult. in the published correspondence. The three points specified in that letter, giving your recollection of the conversation, are correctly stated.

By Mr. McCulloch of the Treasury Department: I cannot undertake to state the precise language uttered, but I have no hesitation in saying your account of that conversation, as given in your letter to Gen. Grant, on the 31st ult., substantially, in all important particulars, accords with my recollection of it.

By P. M. G Alex. W. Randall: The following extract from your letter of the 31st of January to Gen. Grant is according to my recollection of the conversation that took place between the President and Gen. Grant at the Cabinet meeting on the 14th of January last: "In the presence of the Cabinet, the President asked Gen. Grant whether, in the conversation which took place after his appointment as Secretary of War ad interim, he did not agree either to resign at the head of the War Department and abide any judicial proceedings that might follow the non-concurrence of the Senate in Mr. Stanton's suspension, or should he wish not to become embroiled in such a controversy, put the President in the same position with respect to the office as he occupied previous to Gen. Grant's appointment, by returning it to the President in time to anticipate such action by the Senate; this Gen. Grant admitted. The President then asked Gen. Grant if at the conference on the preceding Saturday he had, to avoid misunderstanding, requested Gen. Grant to state what he intended to do, and further, if in reply to that inquiry, he (General Grant) had not referred to their former conversations, saying that from them the President understood the position, and that his (Gen. Grant's) action would be consistent with the understanding which had been reached. To these questions Gen. Grant replied in the affirmative. The President asked Gen. Grant if, at the conclusion of their interview on Saturday it was not the understanding that they were to have another conference on Monday, before final action by the Senate on the case of Mr. Stanton. Gen. Grant replied that such was the understanding, but that he did not suppose the Senate would act so soon; that on Monday he had been engaged in a conference with Gen. Sherman, and was occupied with many little matters, and was asked if Gen. Sherman had not called on that day.

By Mr. O. H. Browning, Department of Interior:

At the Cabinet meeting Tuesday, January 14, 1868, Gen. Grant appeared and took his accustomed seat at the Board. When he had been reached in the order of business, the President asked him, as usual, if he had anything to present. In reply, the General, referring to a note which he had that morning addressed to the President enclosing a copy of the resolution of the Senate, refusing to concur in the reasons for the suspension of Stanton, proceeded to say: "He regarded his duties as Secretary of War ad interim terminated by that resolution, and that he could not lawfully exercise such duties for a moment after the adoption of that resolution; that the resolution reached him last night, and this morning he had come over to the War Department, entered the Secretary's room, bolted one door on the inside, locked the other on the outside, delivered the key to the Adjutant General, and proceeded to the headquarters of the army and addressed the communication below to the President, informing him that he was no longer Secretary of War ad interim.

The President expressed great surprise at the course which Gen. Grant had thought proper to pursue, and pressed himself to the General, and proceeded to say, in substance, that he had anticipated such action of the Senate, and being very desirous to have the constitutionality of the tenure-of-office act, and his right to suspend or remove a member of the Cabinet decided by the judicial tribunal of the country, he had some time ago, and shortly after Gen Grant's appointment as Secretary of War ad interim, asked the General what his action would be in the event that the Senate should refuse to concur in the suspension of Mr. Stanton, and that the General had then agreed either to remain at the head of the War Department until a decision could be obtained from the Court, or resign the office into the hands of the President before the case was acted upon by the Senate, so as to place the President in the same situation he occupied at the time of Grant's appointment.

The President further said that the conversation was resumed on the preceding Saturday, at which time he asked the General what he intended to do if the Senate should disapprove of Mr. Stanton's suspension, and the question should be decided by the courts; that he remained until very recently of that opinion, and on the Saturday before the Cabinet meeting a conversation was held between yourself and him, in which the subject was generally discussed.

Gen. Grant's statement in that conversation that he had stated to you the difficulties which might arise, involving time and imprisonment, under the civil tenure Grant replied that he did not care to subject himself to these penalties. That you replied to this remark that you regarded the civil tenure bill as unconstitutional, and did not think its penalties were to be feared, or that you would voluntarily assume them, and you insisted that Gen. Grant should rather retain the office until relieved by yourself according to what you claimed was the original understanding between yourself and him, or by reasonable notice of a change of purpose on his part, put you in the same situation in which you would be if he adhered. You claimed that Gen. Grant finally said in that Saturday's conversation, that you understood his views and his pledges and therefore would not be inconsistent with what had been so understood.

Gen. Grant did not controvert, nor can I say that he admitted this last statement. Certainly Gen. Grant did not at any time in the Cabinet meeting held that he had, in the Saturday conversation, either directly or finally advised you of his determination to retire from the charge of the War Department, otherwise than that, under your subsequent direction, he suggested in your statement that the Saturday conversation ended with an expectation that there would be a subsequent conference on the subject, which he, as well as yourself, understood could reasonably take place on Monday.

You then alluded to the fact that Gen. Grant did not call upon you, as you expected, from that conversation. Gen. Grant replied that it was his expectation or purpose to call upon you Monday. Gen. Grant assigned reasons for the omission. He said that he was in conference with Gen. Sherman; that as there were many little matters to be attended to, he had concluded upon the matter of surrendering the War Department with Gen. Sherman; he expected Gen. Sherman would call on Monday. My own mind suggested a further explanation, but I do not remember whether it was mentioned or not, namely: It was not supposed by Gen. Grant on Monday that the Senate would decide the question so promptly, as to anticipate a further explanation between yourself and him if delayed beyond that day. Gen. Grant made another explanation, that he was engaged on Sunday with Gen. Sherman, and I think also on Monday, in regard to the War Department, with a hope, though he did not say in an official way, to procure an amicable settlement of the affair of Mr. Stanton, and still hoped it would be brought about.

AGRICULTURAL.

GRAFTING.

Dr Regel describes a new method of grafting, as practiced by Herr Freundlich, one of the Prussian court gardeners, with remarkable success. Instead of taking the scions from the previous year's wood with the bud just beginning to swell, the still soft growing lateral shoots are selected when from half to one foot in length, and either side cleft or tongue grafted, care being taken not to draw the ligature too tight, as they swell much more rapidly than hard wood scions. Success, he says, is certain, if care be taken that the age of the stock in motion at the time the operation is performed. He recommends this mode as superior to all others, especially for hard-wood trees, such as quercus, fagus, etc., which are usually difficult to propagate from the old wood. New roses and plants, which it is desirable to increase as rapidly as possible, may also be advantageously worked in the same manner.—Florist and Pomologist.

WOOD ASHES FOR STRAWBERRIES.

There is no better fertilizer for strawberries than ashes. We remember that one of the best crops we ever had was raised when the only manure used was wood ashes. All soils will not alike be benefitted by such an application, but it is always safe to use ashes in connection with other manures. If ashes only are used there are fewer weeds, as no seed can be introduced by the manure.—American Journal of Horticulture.

HOP CULTURE IN CALIFORNIA.

Daniel Flint communicated the following in regard to the culture of hops in Sacramento county: "I have 50 acres of hops—20 of which were planted this year. I had 65,000 pounds, or an average of 1300 pounds per acre. There are about 170 acres of hops in Sacramento county, which produced 171,300 pounds, or a trifle over 1000 pounds per acre. It is but fair to state that about one half, or 85 acres, of this quantity were planted in 1867, and a large portion of it on ground that proved too wet; and taking that into consideration the average was very large. The price has ranged from 40 to 60 cents per pound. Taking the average at 50 cents, they would bring $85 650. Dividing this amount equally among the eight different parties or firms that are engaged in throwing hops, it would give $10,706 apiece—a nice little sum for a farmer."

HOW A CALIFORNIAN CULTIVATES AND MATURES THE VINE.

A German vine grower in California, finding his vineyard infested with hare and other predacious animals, have adopted the following method of getting rid of them and at the same time enriching the soil. The description of the process is in his own words: "I poison them with strychnine, and in the morning, when I find the dead hare, I bury them under the vines for manure. And the next night the cayotes come, and they dig up the hares and eat them and they get poisoned and die, and I buries them under some other vines; and the next night the skunks come and dig up the cayotes; and eats them, and they gets poisoned and die, and I buries them all to manure the grape vines."

PLANT GROWING.

A successful Cincinnati plant grower, who confines himself chiefly to roses, verbenas, heliotrope, mignonette, and fuschias, and who has healthy plants, uses cow manure, and nothing else, in his pots. He gathers it up in the fall, and keep it in a dry place out of the rain. Before potting his plants, he puts it through a sieve, and when potting puts a little of the coarse in the bottom of the pot (no rock or drain of any kind) and uses the fine round the sides. Everything thrives in it from hyphonia to a scarlet geranium. He uses no loam nor leaf mould. He propagates in sand, and pots in cow-dung!

TO DESTROY THE APPLE ROOT-APHIS.

Mr. E. A. Riehl writes to the Rural World that this insect is on the increase in Illinois orchards, and recommends the following remedy:

Apply a good heavy mulch of straw, weeds, grass, or some such material, about the base of the tree, and, if not removed soon, kill it; but our object is to get them where we can get at them, and then destroy them. So when they collect about the collar, take some hot water and scald them to death. I would prefer simple hot water to tobacco water, soapsuds, or any other decoction, for the reason that simple hot water would kill all the insects collected about the collar and leaves nothing repulsive to the insects that might be left among the small roots, and they would afterwards come to the collar and could also be destroyed, which would very likely not be the case if anything were used that would leave any repulsive smell or taste behind; they would then stay among the small roots underground, where they could not be operated on.

TREE PLANTING IN KANSAS.

Mr. J. W. Sponable, of Gardener, Kansas, writes to the Country Gentleman that there is in that State a law offering to any one planting and successfully growing for three years, an acre or more of forest trees, or a half a mile or more of forest trees along any highway, an annual bounty of $2 per acre or half mile, to be paid for twenty-five years. Mr. Sponable says: "This law has been in existence long enough for many of our farmers to draw as high as fifty dollars per annum, which pays their taxes and leaves a surplus—besides beautifying the country, and 'tempering the wind to the shorn lamb'—saying nothing about the enhancement in value around these groves and wind-breaks. A farmer here commenced planting a grove and wind-breaks nine years ago. The trees did well and made a nice place without the expenditure of scarcely any money, and last spring the owner was offered $50 per acre, and I can buy just as good land adjoining this (improvement commenced at the time) for $15. We will count it as it is: 160 acres at $50 per acre, $8000; 160 acres at $15 per acre, $2400—a difference of $5600, without a difference of $100 in outlay.

PATENT MEDICINES.

MRS. JACKSON'S
Queen Bess Complexion Wash.
THE following certificates, selected from hundreds in the possession of the proprietress, are confidently submitted to the public:

MRS. WOLCOTT'S CERTIFICATE.
QUINCY, Ill., November 5, 1866.
MRS. JACKSON, Dear Madam—It is with pleasure that I certify to you, that each one of your circulars, which contained certificates and indorsements from the best physicians and the highest unofficial authorities of the United States, cert fying that your oils for the complexion and teeth were purely the oils, extracts and essences of herbs, and that they extract it when used according to directions to cure the worst and most difficult cases of pimples, sore mouth, canker of the stomach, bowels and dyspepsia. For so-called disorders, when used both internally and externally, it has no equal. Bear Madam, seeing this, and my little daughter having a terrible fit of coughing, and having the whooping cough for several months, soon acted upon what the doctors call white canker, her mouth being one large scar. I immediately started having tried everything for its relief I could hear of, all to no purpose. I bought one bottle of your oil for the complexion, called "Queen Bess," went according to the directions, did not quit using one bottle, and I am most happy to state to you that it has cured my child. She is now as well and healthy as ever she was in her life. I give you this, my certificate, hoping you will publish it, that thousands of others who may be afflicted with any of the above affections may at once get a bottle of your "Queen Bess," for I feel sure they will find immediate relief. Yours respectfully,
MRS. GEO. WOLCOTT,
Jersey street, bet. Sixth and Seventh.

MRS. WM. R. COLLINS' CERTIFICATE.

MRS. JACKSON, Dear Madam—I am most happy to inform you that after having suffered more than three years with what some pimples and nursing sore mouth, or canker of the mouth and throat, I tried various remedies, but found nothing to do me any good until I heard of your oils for the complexion and teeth, called "Queen Bess." I bought one bottle, went according to directions, and found myself thankful to say I have found a permanent cure. Hoping you will pardon this, that other poor sufferers may be benefitted by it, I remain,
Yours respectfully,
MRS. WM. R. COLLINS.

POPULAR WORKS ON FREEMASONRY
PUBLISHED BY THE MASONIC PUBLISHING
—AND—
MANUFACTURING COMPANY,
432 Broome Street, New York.

LITURGY OF THE ANCIENT AND Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry, for the Southern Jurisdiction of the United States. By Albert Pike, 33d, Sov. Grand Commander. 8vo. Splendidly illustrated with Chromo-lithographic plates and numerous wood engravings, Part II, 4th to 14th degree, $9 00.

It would perhaps seem unnecessary after giving the above 14-page to say anything further in the way of recommendation. The name of the author should of itself be a sufficient guarantee of its worth. Ill. Bro. Pike, by his learning and contributions has done as much to elevate the standard of Masonic literature and extend a knowledge of its symbolism, ethics and history as any other living man. This book, in its particular department, may justly be considered a master-piece, embracing matter not only useful to the Masonic student of every grade, but to men of science in the highest literary field of the present age. Notwithstanding this book has been preceded by several of a similar character, yet to Bro. Pike alone is due the honor of first exploring this branch of Masonic literature and of presenting to the admiration of the Craft its vast storehouse of knowledge and beauty. This work contains the degrees of the Ancient and Accepted Rite from the fourth to the fourteenth inclusive, is elegantly illustrated with chromo-lithograph engravings, showing all the jewels, costume, furniture, etc., belonging to each degree. No expense has been spared in getting it up, and it is without doubt the most elegant, as well as one of the most useful books, ever offered to the Fraternity.

Published and for sale by the Masonic Publishing and Manufacturing Company, 432 Broome street, New York, and Booksellers generally in the United States.

DIPLOMACY IN THE CABINET.

The memoirs and recollections of the Cabinet in regard to the conversations between President JOHNSON and Gen. GRANT will arrest the attention of the reader. They will afford a fine field, not every day accessible, for the study of human nature. The letters of the Secretaries of the Navy and Treasury are simply endorsements of the correctness of the statement made by the President in his correspondence with Gen. GRANT of the issue made up between them. They do not enter into a repetition of what the conversation and understanding between the parties were, but the one says the "three points specified are correctly stated;" the other that the "account" (financial-like) "substantially, in all important particulars, accords with my "(his) recollection of it." This is plain and direct, without circumlocution and to the point. They do not deem it necessary to multiply words, or repeat the conversation as detailed by the President, but confirm what he has said as "correctly stated" and "substantially" (that is without the precise language the same,) according with his recollection.

The Postmaster General briefly states what occurred, and fully corroborates the view presented by the President, coinciding with him in the issue made with Gen. GRANT, and showing that the latter had not correctly narrated what had transpired at the interview referred to, but expressed an entirely different recollection of the facts.

The Secretary of the Interior goes more into detail, and relates with much minuteness all that took place, fully confirming the authenticity of the President's recountal of what transpired between himself and Gen. GRANT, and as conclusively proving the memory of the latter to have been treacherous and wide of the truth—leaving him no oulet from the very close place in which he is cornered.

The Secretary of State approaches the subject with his usual caution. After detailing what the President said at the interview, recapitulating what had transpired between himself and Gen. GRANT, the careful diplomatist proceeds: "I did not understand him as denying nor as explicitly admitting these statements in the form and full extent to which you made them. His admission of them was rather indirect and circumstantial, though I did not understand it to be an evasive one." Here, it will be observed, although the admission was "indirect and circumstantial," it was still an admission, and not "an evasive one." The adroitness of expression is characteristic of the quibbler who has ground down his instrument to so sharp an edge as to be adapted to hair-splitting. He continues to give the conversation in which the President claimed that he had assured Gen. GRANT he would bear the burden of any penalty that might arise from GRANT's holding on to the war-office, and that GRANT should retain the office until relieved, or give seasonable notice before relinquishing the keys, and again diplomacy comes to the relief of the Secretary: "Gen. GRANT did not controvert, nor can I say that he admitted this last statement. Certainly Gen. GRANT did not at any time in the Cabinet meeting insist that he had, in the Saturday conversation, either directly or finally advised you of his determination to retire from the charge of the War Department, otherwise than that, under your subsequent direction, he acquiesced in your statement that the Saturday conversation ended with an expectation that there would be a subsequent conference on the subject, which he as well as yourself, understood could reasonably take place on Monday."

If this be not a precious example of circumlocution in very choice terms, we have but an imperfect knowledge of language, and an indifferent idea of the importance of well adapted phraseology in saying something, yet meaning nothing. Standing alone, the recollections of the cunning old Secretary, although oracularly delivered, would come as near amounting to nothing as any same number of words could well be rendered in any connection. There is no directness, scarcely any point, save that there was a conversation, and the subject matter of that conversation was concerning GRANT's occupation of the War Department and his retirement therefrom. It appears to corroborate what the President says, and it don't. After passing through the alembic of Secretary SEWARD's peculiarly constructed mind, a very plain statement is apt to wear the appearance of a screw, being the converse of the anger that bores a square hole, as if mortised. He cannot be a very advantageous counsellor, with all his sagacity, experience and cautiousness where directness and prompt, decisive action are required. We do not say this in view of the wordy and inconclusive testimony he has given in the case. That is only characteristic of the man, who appears to covet a name for indecision until such time as it may suit his plans to reveal his purpose. Taken in connection with what his colleagues say they remember, his testimony may be fairly construed as favoring the President and leaving Gen. GRANT the most remote and uncertain degree of comfort.

A STUPENDOUS FALSEHOOD.

On the 12th, JOHN SHERMAN introduced in the Senate a bill which was read and referred to the Judiciary Committee, for the admission of the State of Alabama, under the new Constitution, which, it appears, notwithstanding frauds enormous, and all the appliances that could be brought to bear, has not been ratified, although the bill sets forth that it has! The "whereas" says that "the people of the State of Alabama have in strict compliance" with the act "'to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States' formed a Constitutional government in conformity with the Constitution of the United States, framed by a Convention of Delegates in compliance with said act, and said Constitution has been ratified by a majority of the qualified persons voting on the question of ratification, and said Constitution contains all the guarantees required by said act, therefore" said State is entitled to representation in Congress, etc. At the time this bill was introduced, the returns from the State could not possibly have been received. Does it not look as if it was determined to carry Alabama anyhow, whether "the people" voted or not? How otherwise could the Senator from Ohio know that all that the bill claimed had been done? The Constitution, even if it had been ratified, is not "in conformity to the Constitution of the United States"—there are numerous departures from that instrument. Now if it has not been ratified, and it is almost everywhere conceded that it has not, does it not leave Mr. SHERMAN in a most ridiculous, if not contemptible attitude? This is the effect of Radicalism. Veracity is at a discount among that sweet-scented set, and illustrious examples are afforded in the persons of the General of the armies and a leading Senator of the United States.

GENERAL NEWS.

—Next Tuesday the Kentucky Legislature will go into the election of a United States Senator, in the place of Hon. James Guthrie, resigned.

—The Senate would not confirm the nomination of Gen. Leslie Combs as United States Marshal of Kentucky.

—Prof. Richardson, of the Rochester University, died on the 11th inst.

—Capital punishment is to be left to the discretion of the jury, by an act of the Minnesota Legislature.

—On the 11th the Cleveland paper mill was damaged $20,000 by fire, but was covered by insurance.

—David Knapp, of Milwaukie, was garroted on the evening of the 11th, and robbed of a watch. Before the garroter could get Knapp's money a patrolman captured him.

—Asterisk was sold on the street at Lexington, Ky., Monday, for $305, to Capt. Mat. M. Clay, of Bourbon. Bay Dick was offered at $105, but was withdrawn.

—The woolen factory at Peru, Ind., was destroyed by fire on the 11th. Loss fifty thousand dollars. Fully insured. This was the largest factory in Indiana. Messrs. Sierne were proprietors.

—Four stores on Genesee street, Utica, New York, occupied by J. F. Griffith, boots and shoes; S. F. Hannas, card engraver; Buckingham & Mitchell, fancy goods, were burned Monday night of last week. Loss about $40,000, mostly covered by insurance.

—The Georgetown (Ky.) Times complains of the poor prospect for wheat in that county on account of the freezes and thaws.

ALABAMA ITEMS.

—The Montgomery Mail, of the 9th, says the white race of Alabama have proven themselves worthy of their race. It is estimated that the proposed Constitution has been defeated by at least 10,000 majority.

—The Huntsville Independent of the 11th, says: "We are still encouraged to believe that the Ethiopian Constitution has failed of ratification. The news comes in slowly. From pretty reliable information, it has been ascertained that not more than 7,500 votes have been cast in Jackson, Marshall, Madison, Morgan, Lauderdale, Lawrence, Limestone, Franklin and Colbert. The Constitution has not carried in a single county, except, perhaps, Lawrence. The Radicals here concede a defeat in the State by about 20,000. There was a rumor on the streets yesterday that the polls would be opened again, but we do not give it any credence." Why not? What has been done once may be repeated. It will be as legal and constitutional a dozen times over-as once.

SPECIALS TO APPEAL.

MISSISSIPPI.

BILL OF RIGHTS.

Gen. Gillem and the Tax.

Special Dispatch to Memphis Appeal.]

JACKSON, MISS., February 15.—The first section of the Bill of Rights was referred to a special committee as introduced. It guaranteed the right of suffrage to all persons, irrespective of race or color, sex, or anything else. The succeeding seven sections adopted present no new features.

McKee was in his seat to-day, but no report of his mission to Gen. Gillem, on the tax question, has been laid before the Convention. This evidently is not favorable to the collection of the tax; but it is reported that Gen. Gillem intimated his willingness to second the collection of the tax on cotton and the 33½ per cent. additional assesment, but would not enforce the special levy. This is not claimed as an official declaration, however.

CONGRESSIONAL.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The Speaker presented the correspondence between Gen. Grant and Gen. Hancock, which was referred to the Committee on Reconstruction.

Prime, rising to a privilege question, sent to the Clerk's desk, and had read, a paragraph from the Washington telegraphic correspondence of yesterday, of the New York Tribune, relative to incidents which occurred in the room of the Committee on Reconstruction, on the impeachment proposition. He then said, "Of course I have no knowledge as to the source of information of the writer, but it happens that every single statement purporting to be a statement of the facts relating to me and that Committee are without the slightest shadow of foundation."

The House then went into a Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union, on the consular and diplomatic appropriation bill. It appropriates $1,209,974. After some debate, Mr. Washburne said that "when the bill was prepared the committee had no information as to the appointment of a minister to Greece, therefore no item for this mission had been inserted, but the gentleman (?) from Massachusetts (Butler) had been instructed by the committee to move an amendment to that effect." Butler then moved to insert the word "Greece," but without disposing of the question the committee rose, and the House adjourned.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, February 15.—In the House to-day, the Speaker submitted the following in compliance with a resolution of the House on the 14th inst:

Also, the honor to transmit herewith copies of the correspondence between Gen. Hancock and myself relative to the removal by Gen. Hancock of Councilmen in the city of New Orleans.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,
[Signed] U. S. GRANT, General.

NEW ORLEANS, February 7, 1868.

Gen. U. S. Grant:

I have removed nine members of the City Council, two white and seven colored, for contempt of the order of the military commission proceeding to an election for Recorder for the Second District, and which is an elective office under the laws by the people, and not by the Council. The attempt to hold an election was made while I was absent in Texas, but the Council was referred to Gen. Sheridan's order forbidding elections until reconstruction was completed without authority from the commanding General. Nevertheless these members voted for an immediate election, the project was carried and the election was about to be completed, when one or two members, more timid than those left, broke the quorum. A case in point is Gen. Mower's special order of October 15, 1867, removing the Jefferson City Council for a like offense. My action in this matter was in accordance with the power granted by the reconstruction act, which allows District Commanders to suspend or remove persons from office, and provides, from time to time, for the performance of the duties of the persons removed, by appointment.
(Signed) WINFIELD S. HANCOCK, U. S. A.

WASHINGTON, February 8, 1868.

Maj.-Gen. W. S. HANCOCK New Orleans:

Suspend your order removing the City Council of New Orleans, until a full report of the reasons are received. Answer by mail.
(Signed) U. S. GRANT, General.

NEW ORLEANS, February 11, 1868.

Gen. U. S. Grant, Commanding United States Army:

The change in the City Council was an accomplished fact, when your dispatch of February 9th was received. Several of the appointees have already filed copies of their oaths of office. In my selection, I have appointed the best men to office, without regard to their political opinions, and all are waiting to take the required oath. The change will be of immense advantage to the city, as the poor, of which the city is principally composed, are dependant upon public confidence. WINFIELD S. HANCOCK,
Maj.-Gen. U. S. A.

Secretary McCulloch favors the proposition to make Cincinnati, St. Louis and Chicago ports of entry, to which goods can be sent in bond from the Atlantic sea ports, by paying the duties there.

Gen. J. B. Steedman has resigned the Collectorship of Internal Revenue in New Orleans, to take effect May 15th.

Fractional currency printed for the week, $520,500; shipped, $186,667. National bank notes issued, $151,810; amount in circulation, $209,629,226. The Treasurer holds in banks, as security therefor, $341,319,800, and for deposits of public money, $37,877,950. Fractional currency redeemed and destroyed this week, $697,700. Internal revenue receipts for the week, $1,452,027; aggregate for the fiscal year to date, $128 625,284.

—The revenue cutter Neemaha was destroyed by fire Friday of last week, while off Wyocomico river. Two of the crew were drowned.

FOREIGN.

FLORENCE, February 15.—The dinner given to Admiral Farragut, already mentioned, was a grand affair. Stella, formerly Minister of Finance, toasted the Admiral, who, in his remarks, said: "Iron hearts, and not ironclads had based his fame," and acknowledging the compliment, spoke of his love for Italy, and his confidence in her noble progress.

Geo. P. Marsh, the Representative of the United States in Italy, in behalf of his country, thanked Stella for his hopes of an eternal alliance.

Depries, formerly Secretary of Marine Affairs, said that such an alliance with America—the land found by Columbus, baptized by Vespucius, and elevated by Balta, must be natural.

LONDON, February 15.—Earl Derby has been very ill, and there is an uncontradicted rumor prevalent this forenoon that he died during the night.

Sir G. Shee, one of the Judges of the Court of the Queen's Bench, died to-day.

It now appears that the statements of the morning journals in regard to the death of Judge Shee and Earl Derby are untrue. They both have been dangerously ill, but their recovery is confidently looked for.

LISBON, February 15.—Rio Janeiro advices say that beyond the usual skirmishing there has been no fighting between the hostile armies in the Potanna. The cholera is still raging with unabated fury in Buenos Ayres. There is also much sickness in the camps of both armies.

The revolt which had broken out in Senafe, one of the Provinces of the Argentine Republic, has been successful, the ruling government having been overthrown.

The Spanish Government hopes for a general peace, from the internal dissensions now prevailing in Peru.

FROM TEXAS.

GALVESTON, February 15.—Last evening the wife of Col. G. H. Giddings was killed by jumping from a carriage while the horse were running away. Col. Giddings and his three little daughters escaped unhurt.

MEMPHIS, TENN., February 15, 1868.

PROTECTION YOUR FAMILY.—WE HAVE the Agency of this popular and one of the oldest and richest corporations of Life Insurance in the United States. Was chartered in 1846. It is purely mutual. It pays no stockholders for the use of capital, no bonuses or commissions to officers, and no immoderate compensation to agents. It has but one class of members, both new and old, sharing equally in the annual divisions of surplus, receiving a dividend on every premium paid. This company annually returns their dividends 50 per cent. fifty per cent. in the event of death, so there will not be a note deducted from the policy in settling with ones heirs. The dividends of the "Connecticut Mutual" have been the largest of any company on record, having declared, in the average, through its entire history, fifty (50) per cent. annually. Do not delay this very important matter. Call at our office and investigate. feb16 1m

The celebrated Raleigh Mineral Springs, situated on the confines of Raleigh, late County Seat of Shelby county, Tenn., nine miles northeast of Memphis, and two miles from Wells' Station, on the Memphis and Charleston Railroad. These Springs are six and number, of various mineral and medicinal qualities, and are visited every Summer by thousands of seekers of health and pleasure, from all quarters of the country. They are within a few steps of the village of Raleigh, in a beautiful valley, and also within a few hundred feet of Wolf river, which winds around the base of the eminence on which the village of Raleigh is situated, and empties into the "Father of Waters" at Memphis. Numerous remarkable cures of various diseases have been experienced by sojourners at this health-inspiring resort, and the present proprietor, Col. A. M. Coleman, can produce hundreds of certificates of cures in cases which have been entirely given over by medical skill. The ground surrounding the springs, and in fact the entire village of Raleig

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL, }
MEMPHIS, February 15, 1868. }

Currency is easier to-day. The early train brought in fully $150,000 for our banks, while other deferred amounts will be here by Monday, and we hope that by that time there will be more regularity in shipments than has prevailed during the week just closing. Though the cotton market is again advancing in the East, offerings of exchange were lighter to-day—being the last day of the week and buyers were engaged preparing their lots for shipment. The buying rates in New York remain at ½ to ¾ discount; selling at par. New Orleans bills are taken at ½ off, and sold at ¼ premium.

Gold opened to-day in New York at 140¾, and closed at 141¼. There was some counter demand during the day, but it was like the offerings, in a small way. Brokers buy at 138½ to 139c, and sell at 140c.

We can learn of no movement in city scrip. The demand is active for small pieces, while large ones are not in request. We quote the latter nominally at 38 to 40c buying; selling at 42 to 44c. Small scrip is taken at 45 to 46c; selling at 50c.

Police scrip is in demand at 80 to 82c buying; selling at 85c.

County warrants are very dull. Brokers are not buying. Selling at 60 to 65c.

Gold continues to accumulate in the Bank of France. Its coffers now contain the unprecedented sum of $205,420,000. This, too, notwithstanding the large requirements of money to make up for a deficient harvest in France by foreign importation of wheat. The large armaments of Europe and the fears they occasion, are reported to have paralyzed commerce to an extent never before witnessed.

A letter from the Internal Revenue Office, Washington, to the United States Assessor of St. Louis, notifies him that the House Committee on Ways and Means is unanimously of opinion that the tax on cigars can best be secured by affixing a stamp to each cigar, and requested him to obtain an opinion of the trade upon the subject. With this view Mr. Papin, the Assessor of that District, submitted the above letter to an informal meeting of cigar makers, and there was an almost unanimous opposition expressed to the plan, on the ground of trouble and inconvenience; but another and formal meeting will be held in a few days, at which parties interested will give more careful and particular expressions of opinions.

The Liverpool cotton market, at the opening to-day, was firm; Uplands, 8¼ to 8¾d; Orleans, 8¾ to 8¾d. At the close the market was buoyant; Uplands, 8¾ to8¾d; Orleans, 8¾ to 9d. The demand in New York at the opening was moderate, and prices firm; Uplands, 20¼c; Orleans, 21¼c. At noon the demand was good and prices higher; Middling, 20¾c; Orleans, 21¾c; Low Middling, 20c. The market again advanced at 1 p. m. to 21c for Middlings. It advanced another ¼c at 2 p.m., and closed excited and active—Uplands, 21¼c; Orleans, 22¼c. Sales for the day, 7000 bales. The market opened with much the same feeling which ruled at the close last evening. Some sales were made on a basis of 18 to 18½, but the market soon rallied, and prices went up until they were beyond the views of buyers. At the close, prices were firm, with a good many brokers upon the street, and holders asking 20 to 20¼c for Middlings. We quote:

Ordinary	16 @17
Good Ordinary	18@18½
Low Middling	18½@19
Middling	20@20
Good Middling	20@22

Easton & Co.'s Cotton Report for the week ending February 7th says:

"Granting that the crop will reach 2¼ millions, there should be 900,000 bales more to come in. This, with the stock on hand, would give a total of 1,245,000 bales, from which to supply the wants of England, the Continent and our own spinners from now to next October or November without counting anything for stock. This would be equivalent to about 37,000 bales a week for thirty-four weeks, supposing every bale was used. English spinners will be obliged to run prices up to a point that will draw more supplies from India, or reduce their consumption."

Our streets were thronged to-day with ladies, who have been enticed from their long seclusion by the beautiful weather. The retail business must have been active—at least the clerks were all actively engaged showing goods; and as it is a well-known fact that ladies never look at articles they do not wish to purchase, we presume that a very large amount of trade was done. Prices are some higher than last week in staple articles. The jobbing trade in plantation supplies was equally active as in other branches of business, but restricted somewhat by the small stock. Corn is again about closed out. There is none on the landing. In store it is held at 90 to 95c. Oats are scarce and firm, selling at 95c in store for white, while black seed oats are scarce and dull at 85 to 90. Brands scarce at $38 to $40 per ton. Hay, dull at $19 to $20. Cornmeal is held at $4 50 to $4 75. Mess Pork is firm at $24 25 to $25. Kanawha salt; $3 25 to 3 50 per barrel; sack, $3 to 3 25. Sugars, dull and heavy. Crushed and powdered, 19 to 20c. Coffee, 17 to 18c; brown, 14 to 17c. Whisky is firm at $1 60 to $2 25 for common.

We have no change to note in the Stock market. Cattle are dull at 5 to 6c. Inferior, 3 to 4; gross. Sheep, $3 00 to 6 00 per head. There are no hogs in market.

THE MEMPHIS APPEAL

FOR 1868.

ALBERT PIKE
EDITOR

JNO. AINSLIE,
Cashier and Business Manager.

THE MEMPHIS APPEAL, NOW IN ITS Twenty-Ninth Year, is offered to the reading public of Tennessee, Mississippi, Arkansas and Alabama, it is believed, with superior inducements to any that have ever been presented to its numerous and rapidly increasing patrons. The stagnation in financial movements, the almost total cessation of trade, the paralysis in agricultural operations and the anomalous condition of political affairs, instead of counselling to inaction and discouraging enterprise and energy, should arouse our people to redouble their exertions, to extend their enterprise, and to rely with greater confidence and higher resolve upon their own indomitable and unquenchable courage and purpose. If there ever was a time when the people should be

Fully Aroused and Wide Awake,

it is in such an emergency as the present. The temptation is strong to despair, and to surrender to the influence of fear and an almost overwhelming opposition. If we listen to the voice of the Siren and give up to despair, we are lost—irrecoverably lost. It behooves one and all to be up and doing, "with a heart for every fate, still achieving, still pursuing," until the book of our destiny shall be closed. We should hear of no compromise to make with the opposing genius of decay and destruction, which is seeking to drag us down. We should meet the enemy at every stage and wage an aggressive warfare upon him, until we expel him from the land. Poverty comes upon our beloved land and upon our patriotic people "like an armed man." Like "an armed man" we must assail him—with the same will, determination and courage with which he marches upon our homes and hearthstones. In such an emergency,

THE NEWSPAPER

Is the great and potent weapon with which we must carry on the campaign. We might as well at once surrender to the foe as to abandon this agency, which is, in fact, the artillery arm, both for defense and attack, in such a warfare. This great moral and political agent can only be rendered efficient and successful with the countenance, support and material assistance of the people. Never was there so cheap an aid employed to defend the right and to crush the oppressor. A people who are not willing to sustain an auxiliary which may be so potently used to defend their rights, and which can be employed at so inconsiderable an expense, are in the last stage of decrepitude and decline. And so an individual, who may be which in all free governments is known to be the most powerful lever, in the service of good government, must be either too imbecile for a freeman or too corrupt to receive the confidence and respect of his countrymen. It therefore happens that the people who sustain the Press with the greatest liberality and who rely upon its free utterance, with the highest confidence in its power to elicit the truth and defend the right, are always the freest and most independent people.

FOUND TO DECRY THE PRESS,

To CONSUMPTIVES.

It is authentically stated that one-fifth of the inhabitants of this country and Europe die of Consumption. No disease has been more thoroughly studied, and in nations the most enlightened; there is no disease upon which exists a greater diversity of opinion, and no disease which has more completely baffled all medical skill and remedial agencies.

Some of the prominent symptoms are Cough, Expectoration, Shortness of Breath, Irritation about the Lungs and Chest, darting Pains in the Sides and Back, Emaciation, Debility, and general negative condition of the whole system.

Persons suffering with this dread disease, or any of its concomitants, should not delay in possessing themselves of the proper Remedy in order that they may stay its ravages, and be restored to health. The

Prepared Prescription for the Cure of

Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis,

And all Throat and Lung Affections,

By the use of which he was restored to health in a few weeks, after having suffered several years with a severe lung affection and that dread disease, Consumption, and now offers the use over ten years with the most marked success.

This remedy is prepared from the original Recipe, chemically pure, by the Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON, late of Southampton, Suffolk, Long Island, but now residing in Brooklyn, Kings county, New York.

A pamphlet containing the original prescription with full and explicit directions for preparation and use, together with a short history of his case, with symptoms, and mode of cure, can be obtained (free of charge) of Mr. Wilson, as above, or by calling on or addressing

Our Latest Improved

NEW SCALE PIANO-FORTE.

GROVESTEEN & CO.,

499 Broadway, N. Y.,

THESE Instruments, after the most flattering reception from the first Pianists in the country, who, at our solicitation, have visited them in the service manner possible, have been pronounced THE FINEST SQUARE PIANO-FORTE MADE IN THE WORLD.

It has always been our policy, during the thirty-six years that we have been manufacturing Pianos, better thousand of which are now in use in the United States and Europe, to build the finest instrument at the lowest cost. Our superior facilities enable us to offer them from one to three hundred dollars less than any other first Class House.

The tone of these Instruments are remarkable for their peculiar sweetness and Great Brilliancy, never losing their quality when forced to their utmost capacity. The lower register retaining its positiveness, does not destroy the middle and upper registers by mingling with them in discordance, but adds fullness and beauty of tone being equally delightful to the performer and to the most cultivated ear.

They are an entirely new style of Piano, finished in the most superb manner, with your full round corners front and back, heavily carved legs and Lyre Serpentine Base richly moulded, and each instrument is fully warranted for five years. sep5 dawly

KAVANAGH & DECKER'S

BILLIARD TABLES

THE most reliable Cushion used on Billiard Tables is the

Cat-Gut Cushion,

Manufactured by KAVANAUGH & DECKER, and patented December 18, 1866. (See Scientific American, Vol. 16, No. 1.)

It is the only Cushion that possesses all the qualities claimed to a perfect Cushion. It is the most elastic and most durable Cushion ever offered to the billiard-playing public, as is abundantly proven by the great demand for it since its introduction. The peculiarity which distinguishes the Cat-gut cushion and renders it superior to all others, is the tightening cord or rubber and running the full length of the Cushion, which prevents the ball from bedding into the rubber and jumping from the tables. The addition of the cat-cut cord also adds much to the elasticity of the Cushion.

The Cat-Gut Cushion has already been applied to over 1000 tables, which are in constant use. It can be applied to tables of any make, for $75 per set.

Cavanagh & Decker's Factory, at the corner of Centre and Canal streets, N. O., is the most complete of its kind in the world. The machinery is the most improved character, the lumber drying room the largest in the United States, the material used the best that can be purchased. KAVANGH & DECKER, thoroughly skilled.

Billiard Cloth, Balls, Cues and Trimmings, all of the best make, constantly on hand.

Kavanagh & Decker are the only agents in this country for Kay's Cue Cement, adjudged by competent authorities to be the best Cement ever used.
